EFFECT OF LIGHTNING ON THE HUMAN BODY.

As the effects of lightning on the human body, almost any case is spoken of as cutious. Sometimes no sign of injury can be seen; in others marks are left on the body, clothes are scoreled or torn to shreds, metallic objects valstilised, the nails driven out of boots, and the soles rant. The sail case which happened on a field near Guildford, on August 25, 1897, displayed all these positive characteristics. The clothes were dispersed in a circle of several yards around the dead body, and in the ground a hole 3 in, deep, 4 in, in diameter, was noticed; the skin was toraoff the chest, and the legs were blackened. In another case the peculiar femileaf pattern, like pieris aquilina, was observed on three sputs on the body of a woman, under the clothing which was absolutely 2129 intact; the woman recovered, and the marks disappeared in three days. Again, Dr Chenet saw himself and his companion, both on horseback, enveloped in fire, and felt a violent shock ; they saw no flash, and heard DEST of SPIRITS, LIQUEURS and no thunder, which is the usual experience, B WINES, ENGLISH and FRENCH but their Arabian guides did. Lying down on the ground, Chenet was again struck; this time he heard the thunder, and he noticed sparks from his fingers, &c. He was a long time ill, and remained very sensitive to thunderstorms. The damage done by lightning, apart from the ravages of hail and rain is, on the whole, moderate. The United Kingdom has about, one fafal case per million inhabitants annually. In Germany between 50 and 10.0 age said to he killed, and from 200 to 300 struck; taking the population at 59 millions, we have annually one or two fatal cases per million. In France, up to 1872 there were from 30 to 100 fatal cases per year; since then from 100 to 180; the population has not varied much. Italy (population in 1871, 27 millions, in 1892, 39,535,000) had in the decade 1882 to 1891, 1625 persons klifed by lightning, Lightning killed in the United States, in the four years 1890 to 1893, 120, 2 4, 251, 209 persons, and caused in 1891 and 1892, 457 and 839

Whether forests and trees act preventively, like a multitude of lightning conductors, is no more settled than the part played by lightning-rods in general. There is no doubt that certain kinds of trees are often struck, and that it is inadvisable to take shelter under a tree. Some feet away from the longest branch is considered the safest place; there one is, of course, fully exposed to the rain, but the danger is probably not so great as in the open field. Oaks are universally regarded with suspicion. The poplars appear to attract lightning. When the branches come down pretty near the ground, and when the ground is damp, and no metallic mass near. FOUR STORES EUROPEAN HOUSES | they protect a building : poplars with few in Pret. Street. Each floor contains seraggy branches; or such whose branches come too close to the roof, are dangerous. But in the latter case the roof may be protected after wireenge fashion by wires with earth connections. -- Engineering.

WATER POLO. To the Editor of the 'CHISA MAIL. Kowloon, July 17.

Six,—Being a spectator at the Water Polo Match hold in connection with the Hongkong Water Polo Shield Competition on Thursday, 17th inst., between the Welch Fusiliers and Royal Artillery, T was very much surprised with the play, which was very one-sided. .I should like to comment on the play with regard to 'Fouls,' The rules plainly state that if a player commiss a foul wilfully, he shall be cautioned for the first offence, and for the second, the Referee shall have the power to order the player out of the water until goal has been scored. On several occasions in the above match, 'Fouls' took place, and the players who committed the offence was not even cautioned; I think in fairness to other competing teams, the rules should be strictly adhered to, especially as the result of the competition greatly depends on this being done. I was pleased to see the Committee had done their best in not allowing any but the proper persons on the raft during the match, and hoping they will do their ut-most in seeing that the rules are strictly carried out, also apologizing for taking up your valuable time, -Yours,

CHOLERA EPIDENIC, Kweilin, July 2. The cholera is very bad indeed, not only in the city but in the surrounding country. The same prevails at Yang Soh, Ping Lob-Liu Chow, and in fact in every place from which one has had any news. For more than a month, we have had the disease present, but mostly confined to the section outside the walls. But about a fortnight ago the cases inside began to multiply, so that now many hundreds if not a thousand are dying daily. Two days ago, I hear that 403 dead bodies were taken through the West Gate alone on the previous day. Whatever the numbers for the whole city, the mortality is tremendous. Any day in the course of a walk one can come across numbers of poor wrotches put out to die, alone and uncared for. The Wang Cheng, the large open square in front of the Examination Halls, is a sight with the dead and dying. The top of the Wall is the same, aimost every little but being occupied by the dying, their place only to be taken by others as soon as their remains. have been taken away. It is truly awful. The cholera is of a very virulent type. People fall dead in the street. A man cats a plum, reels, falls, never to rise again.

his ill-gotton gain is struck dead. And so I might go on, For some time there has been a lack of coffins, all stock having been sold out. The ordinary makers cannot make them fast enough, so all the bucket and tub makers are now busy on coffins, and I think the corpenters too. In spite of this, one hears that numbers of corpses are simply rolled up in matting, often two and three together;

Out of the eight, carriers of one coffin,

The weather has probably something to do with this terrible state of affairs. During the middle of June, it was very hot, but about the 20th it changed, there being a good deal of thunder. About midnight on Sunday, 22nd ult., a tremendous storm began, with continuous thunder and violent rain for nearly a whole day. In fifteen, hours, about tifteen inches of rain fell, and much more in the succeeding days. The result of this sudden fall was that almost the whole city was flooded, the water having nowhere to escape to, the river also rising very fast at the same time, but not to such a height as the great rise of last year. Thetemperature also fell, so that it was fairly cold. The result was that numbers of with few intermissions, and now for the last two days it has been heavy min with a cold North wind. So the prospects for a speedy improvement are not very bright.

The effect of all this affliction upon the people is difficult to describe. Apparent apathy, more assumed than real I think, is the chief feature. However, this has not provented t em from taking vigorous means, after their kind, to get rid of the god of this sickness. For some time. therefore, there have been Dragon Boat processions through the streets, and Dragon Bont songs kept up in all the temples. These means not being efficient, processions were got up to escort the aforesaid Demon out of the city. Apparently he has refused to ge, for now I hear that it has been revealed to someone that if at the beginning of the next month the New Year celebrations are kept, thus beginning a new year, the opidemic will cease. Thus dothese your blinded prople act when at their wit's end.

The mortality in the country is, I hear very high, so much so that the question ha arisen, How is the rice to be gathered in If this is really so, it points to a vory serious state of affairs in the near future. At present the price of rice is just about $4.00 When the tissues have been at work, there are the picul, which is very high for these

THE CHEFOO SCHOOL AFFAIR.

Details of the Disaster. The correspondent of the N.-C. Dail; News wrote from Chefoo on the 8th inst. as

The chief topic of the last few days has been the deaths, one might say tragic Lam Fun, Lai Fung, and Tang Ki Hi deaths, of the popular little fellows of the C. I. M. School, who, by nothing more no less than misadventure, have been cut of from their parents and companions.

Wild rumours, of course, were soon in rapid circulation on receipt of news and many causes assigned to account for the sudden illness and deaths of the boys. The one most generally accepted is that poisoning from the effect of had meat, and this is confirmed by the doctors here. appears that the ice chest in use at the School is divided into two compartments, a higher and lower; the food is kept cool by out of danger, and three are able to leave marine Miners. Sunday was a very hot day, one of the first of real summer experienced in Chefoo this year which would account for the speedy turning of the pies not thoroughly protected by icc. Both masters and boys are of the pies at the various tables, but only those who ate of the two pies placed in the upper part of the ice chest, it is assumed, have been stricken down. The first victim was Gershom Broomhall, aged 10 years, who died within four hours of the meal. It may be we arrived at Vancouver shortly ofter t said, however, that no matter what state the weather, the regular toutine of drills continued without a break throughout. It was ernel on some occasions for the men t have to parade at 7 in the morning on a cold, but military order is one thing and comfort another, so there was no shirking.

The food question was a subject of genoral complaint after leaving Yokohama. Irish stew, hash, beefsteak for breakfast, tiffin and dinner, more often than not badly cooked, could not agree with them. For the first seven or eight days after leaving Hongkong, everything seemed to go on digestion was not uncommon as the result of rice and other 'muck' as supplied to the satisfactory food. Ageneral complaint was altimately made with great effect, and the men get all they desired, -- porridge and jam for breakfast and some variations at more satisfactory state and there was no further grambling.

The weather did not clear up till the 29th. Prior to this, the men did not £29,000. venture much on the poop deck, and many great coats were unfolded, but subsequently games of all sorts were held on deck attracting at times a good deal of attention amongst the saloon passengers, but immediately any of them came across, they were 'chalked,' and they invariably squared up matters by sending over palatable refreshments.

On Friday, May 31, a parade was held of the whole contingent to celebrate King M. H. Sharp on his right.

Later on, whilst the volunteers were at tiffin, he was brought down to their quarters by Major Chapman, and after an inspection he was accorded cheers on the call of the Sergeant-Major. Needless to say, the veteran general was exceedingly pleased. At the conclusion of the parade, which was held on the promenade deck, Sir examinations, has confirmed Dr King's Bell-Irving visited the Volunteers at the poop deck and were duly chalked. The incident gave rise to no little amusement, and these prominent Hougkongites were not backward in appreciating the joke. Sir Thomas brought over four boxes of cigars, the men responding with three hearty cheers and sincing. Mr Bell-Irving stood drinks to the Volunteers. AM writing personally to say how much I have benefited by taking your Stearns' Wine of Cod Liver Oil, it is so nice to take, tasting just like Port, is easily digested and leaves no unpleasant taste, which ordinary Cod Liver Oil does. I have become much stouter, and bad coughs, ! which were my constant trouble, have quite reased. I think your preparation wonderful in its work, and everywhere I go shall not fail to recommend it. Yours faithfully,

SANDONIER TANCARVILLE CHAMBERLAYN, 9. Museum Mansions, Great Russell Street, London, W.C. Wholesale from A. S. Watson & Co.,
